

Dr. C.V. Dharma Rao, Adviser, NWM delivering key note address along with a group of eminent speakers at the three-day Geo-Smart India Forum 2019 held recently in New Delhi, wherein India's water situation today and water security of future and the need to adopt measures using geospatial tools to avert the water crisis were deliberated. The water experts in the panel included M.K. Srinivas, Director General, National Water Development Agency, P K Parchure, member, Central Ground Water Board and Dr. Abdul Hakeem, Head, Water Resources, National Remote Sensing Centre.